Genoa Hit In Heaviest RAF Raid On Italy

ROME ADMITS HEAVY LOSS IN AIR RAID

Italians Report Planes Bombed Out in Great Numbers: Turin Also Hit.

(Picture on Page 10)

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 23—The mighty [storm] of the RAF leaped the Alps last night to [strike] the Italian homeland its [heaviest] blow of the war, but- [ted] with such a weight of [bombs] that even Rome con- [fessed] great damage."

The Fascist arsenal city [of Turin], also was hit but [apparently] the chief assault fell [upon] Genoa and industries of [Italy's] big northern Medi- [terranean] port.

The [Italian] ministry mentioned "a [force] of air-craft," but did [not] disclose just how many planes [were] in the Italian communique [spoke] of the "notable dimensions" [of the] assault and Hitler's axis [radio] now apparently has [begun] the fiery devastation [which] the huge four-motored [bombers] of the RAF have been [giving] the reich week after [week].

Alarms In Geneva

[Air] alarms, lasting 85 and [90] minutes, in the Swiss city of [Geneva] attested to the number [of raids] which the British flung [across] Europe on a round-trip [of] 1,500 miles across three [countries] and the continent's tall- [est] mountains.

[The air] ministry said that not [one] of the British planes was [missing] from this first raid on [Italy's] home-based RAF bomb- [ers] in more than six months.

[Genoa], a naval base as well as [an] industrial manufacturing center, [was] often free of raids for more [than a] year when high explosives [and] fire bombs began pouring on [its] narrow, twisting streets from [above] flooded with moonlight.

[With] the growing scale of Brit- [ish] assaults on Germany, the [ministry's] reference to "a [small] force" frequently has [been] 100, often two or three or [four] hundreds of planes in the [mighty] armada, but because of [greater] distance involved in [striking] Italy the comparison may [be] small.

Alerts In French City

[Two] planes touched off alerts [and] intense anti-aircraft fire in [two] French cities of Vichy and [Lyons] as well as the air alerts [in] Geneva.

[The] information that Turin also [was] attacked came from Rome [where] it was said, small fires [broke] out and quickly were con- [trolled].

The Italian communique, [which], gave this description of [the] assault on Genoa:

"At Genoa the enemy raid, [which] was made in several waves [of] incendiary and explosive [bombs], reached notable dimen- [sions] and damaged civilian build- [ings]. Casualties are still being [counted]. The population's atti- [tude] was exemplary. Two planes [were] brought down by the anti- [aircraft] defenses."

[There] was no enemy aerial [activity] over Britain during the [night] but a German bomber drop- [ped] several bombs on a south [coast] town this morning, drawing [heavy] anti-aircraft fire.

START USE OF WAR PLANT DORMITORIES

First Group of Scioto Ordnance Workers "Move In."

[The] first group of workers to [move] in" at the Scioto Ordnance [plant] administration area have [settled] down in rooms of a new [dormitory] building that was [turned] over to the commanding [officer] this week.

[Other] construction and operation [offices] are being housed in the [dormitory]. The building is one [of] large dorms in the admin- [istration] area, three of which are [being] used for construction force [men]. Two others are nearing [completion].

[Tentative] plans call for even- [tually] using half of the dorms for [women] workers, half for men. At [present], quarters are available [only] for men.

[Dormitory] rooms are furnished [with] beds, a writing table, a dres- [sing] table basket and ash trays. [Tenants] have the privilege of [installing] radios. Each dorm [building] will have recreation fa- [cilities].

President Reveals Changes in U. S. Arms Output Goal

Production of Planes and Tanks Will Be Reduced with Greater Emphasis on Power and Strength.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—President Roosevelt disclosed today that the administration, in the light of battle experience, was cutting down on the volume of tanks and planes so far as their number is concerned, to emphasize greater power and strength.

Production of tanks, he said, is falling short of the 45,000 goal set for 1942, yet the same amount of steel is going into these land fighters.

Similarly, the Chief Executive told a press conference, the goal of 60,000 planes this year would not be reached, but that there was greater emphasis on hitting power and range.

What the new total production figures will be were regarded by Mr. Roosevelt as a military secret.

Changes Come Constantly

He said that constant changes in the war production program were being dictated by actual experiences in combat areas. Consequently, he said, he meets regularly with some of his advisers to modify the program wherever necessary, as well as to determine whether the country is doing its utmost in the production field.

At the same time, the President renewed his prophecy that it probably would be necessary to cut down on the production of luxury and semi-luxury goods in order to make steel and other vital materials available for essential munitions.

One of the war production conferences was scheduled this morning, when Mr. Roosevelt called in the secretaries of war and navy; Admiral William D. Leahy, his personal chief of staff; General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff; Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the navy, Admirals Emory S. Land and Howard L. Vickery and Lewis O. Douglas, of the maritime commission; War Production Chairman Donald M. Nelson; and Harry L. Hopkins, American chairman of the British-American munitions assignment board.

Further Limits Seen

The President said they expected to discuss general production problems and further limitation on luxury goods.

One thing we should always remember, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, is that war changes plans.

A year ago, he said, the government made recommendations for what is considered the necessary munitions, using as a guide the experience of other nations during two years of war. But in another year, he said, those goals were changed because of further experience.

He mentioned tanks, for example. A year ago, he said, the government had scheduled a large production of medium M-3 tanks. But experience in warfare, particularly in the Libyan area since last January, led to a changeover to the new M-4, a larger tank.

The question also arose, Mr. Roosevelt said, as to whether the tank production goal had been set too high in view of the problem of transporting equipment to battle areas. Now, he said we are not turning out as many tanks as the program called for, but we are turning out the same weight

REDS CAPTURE NEW POSITION

Report Gains Despite Huge Force Kept in Stalingrad by Germans.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Oct. 23—Soviet Russia announced today the capture of an important tactical position northwest of Stalingrad and the Germans, although using 22 divisions totaling about 250,000 men in the siege, were reported thrown on the defensive in a number of blocks within the city by Red army counterattacks.

Red Star said the defenders seized the initiative at several points where the enemy had feverishly started to fortify positions in ruined buildings as wintry storms swept the steppes.

The noon communique reported the conquest of a major position to the northwest, without details. However it is in that area that the Russians have been conducting a series of large-scale trench raids.

It was announced that Red army forces had smashed a Nazi wedge which briefly endangered their first line of defense in the Mozdok area and the German survivors left 200 dead behind.

Signs of a weakening of the German force in the Caucasus were reported by Pravda. The newspaper said some lines in the Mozdok region were now held by special troops, such as electricians and engineers.

Fighting Still Violent

The fighting remained violent, however, with both artillery and tanks bolstering lighter weapons.

Snipers were reported active on many sections of the German-Russian battle line. Four Red army riflemen have picked off respectively 328, 302, 241 and 206 of the enemy on the Kalinin front, dispatches said. Two Leningrad snipers were credited with killing 302 and 237 Germans.

With the siege of Stalingrad in its sixtieth day, Red Star estimated the Germans were using 15 infantry divisions, four tank divisions and three motorized divisions against the city.

The army newspaper said the Germans had concentrated more than 500 tanks, about 1,200 field guns, 1,000 mortars and from 700 to 800 planes for the offensive.

The besieging divisions have lost 65 to 75 per cent of their personnel and 60 per cent of their machines the newspaper declared. Presumably the tanks have been refilled from reserves.

Center of Battle

The northern factory section remained the main battleground.

"The fate of the city is to be decided there," Red Star said.

The Red army was reported to have recaptured at least two blockhouses in the western suburbs.

Pleasure steamers, called from ports along more than 1,800 miles of the Volga, bore food and munitions to the Stalingrad garrison despite bombing and machine-gunning by German planes, the Russians said.

A reverse was acknowledged in one section of the Mozdok area on the Caucasian front, although various attacks were said to have cost the Germans seven tanks, eight guns and about a battalion of infantry.

The Hitlerites, succeeded in driving a wedge into the front line of our defense," it was announced. "Fighting is in progress for the annihilation of this enemy group."

Red marines were reported to have accounted for more than 300 Rumanians in the battle of the western Caucasus southeast of Novorossisk.

U. S. BUTTER STOCK MELTS AWAY RAPIDLY

Cold Storage Supply May Be Gone by 1943.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 23—Americans are eating into their butter supplies at an unprecedented rate, and dairy trade representatives said today they would not be surprised if cold storage stock had disappeared completely before the end of the year. Some dairy men considered rationing a distinct possibility.

Butter stocks held in cold storage are used to supplement production over winter months.

One dairy association estimate, made privately to the department of agriculture, was said to forecast potential consumption for the remainder of this year as 30,000,000 pounds greater than the amount of butter which would be available, including production and withdrawals from storage.

In the opinion of some trade experts, it will be a statistical wonder if the country avoids butter rationing before Christmas. That could happen, they said, only if there was a miraculous upturn in output or a shift by consumers into substitute foods.

The possibility of expanded production was seen as quite remote. The shortage of farm labor and the relative attractiveness of sending cows to livestock markets in preference to maintaining them for dairy production, are strong forces working against such an expansion.

There are price ceilings on butter.

Production is running only slightly under last year, and little butter is being shipped abroad under the lend-lease terms. Cold storage stocks on Oct. 1 totaled 123,000,000 pounds.

Girl Scouts' Service Bureau Busy

JAPS DELAYED BY AIR RAIDS

Heavy Attacks Throw Enemy Campaign on Guadalcanal Off Schedule.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—Persistent allied air bombardment of a large Japanese war fleet in the southwestern Pacific appeared today to have thrown a long expected Nipponese invasion thrust off schedule while giving Americans time to bolster their forces in the Solomons.

Rendezvousing in the northern Solomon islands about 10 days ago, the enemy warships and transports have been the target for an almost constant rain of allied aerial bombs as they waited the zero hour to surge toward the prized American-held airbase on Guadalcanal island.

The latest attack on the enemy's ship concentration came last night (Australian time) when allied bombers under Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Australian command dumped 10 tons of explosives on Japanese vessels at Buin at the southern tip of Bougainville island.

The nocturnal raid drew strong anti-aircraft fire but all the planes found their targets, MacArthur's command reported, and returned safely.

The navy disclosed that Japanese troops in the heavy jungle on northern Guadalcanal had attempted a minor thrust at the American positions on Oct. 20. The "feeler" was repulsed and the navy said yesterday there was no "material change in the military situation" there.

An enemy bomber, believed to have been on a reconnaisance mission over the island, was

Community Service Is Theme of Program; War Jobs Handled.

"Community service" is the keynote of the Marion Girl Scouts, one of the agencies in the United War Chest drive. Every Girl Scout has given at least several hours of service to community projects, according to records of the Girl Scout service bureau, which has been set up as a clearing house for jobs to be done and girls who wish to do them.

From the War Chest the Girl Scout organization is scheduled to receive $3,707.95, or 3.55 per cent of the total of $104,361.73.

The service bureau jobs have ranged from supplying a scout to take care of a small child whose mother was doing volunteer hospital work to assisting with the filling of sugar rationing cards at the local rationing office. The bureau furnished 35 messengers for the office of civilian defense. Since January 56 girls have given 370 hours of volunteer service.

Some of the work the scouts have done has been in cooperation with various agencies, such as civilian defense, the county health office and the Chamber of Commerce.

Aid War Stamp Sale

At the request of the Chamber of Commerce hundreds of "victory corsages" were fashioned by the girls to promote the sale of war stamps. After making the attractive corsages the girls helped sell them in the stores and most of the girls also purchased war stamp "flowers."

This summer, at the request of the county health office, several Girl Scouts conducted a nursery at the North Main street school, caring for children whose mothers were taking a home nursing course offered by the health office.

The nursery was carried on two days a week for six weeks. Its program included, singing, games, coloring, stories, and activities in the nearby park when the weather permitted. The nursery was in

VISITS LONDON AS GUEST OF KING, QUEEN

Will Visit American Troops and Study Women's Part in War Defense.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 23—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has arrived in Britain as the guest of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth "in order to gain first hand knowledge of British women's war activities and to visit United States forces in Great Britain," Buckingham palace announced today.

The first lady, accompanied by her secretary, Malvina Thompson, flew to England by private which was not disclosed.

She expected to stay two or three weeks and inspect every phase of the British war effort she can in that limited time.

Palace Announcement

The announcement from the royal palace said:

"Mrs. Roosevelt has arrived in this country at the invitation of the king and queen in order to gain first-hand knowledge of British women's war activities and to visit the United States forces in Great Britain.

"Mrs. Roosevelt accompanied by Miss Malvina Thompson, will be the guest of the king and queen during the first part of her visit."

Mrs. Roosevelt, no doubt, will see Prime Minister and Mrs. Churchill and other important personalities as well as the royal family.

Included as far on her itinerary are visits to the women's auxiliary territorial service and the women's royal naval service.

She also is expected to view the civil defense system and women at work in industry.

Precedent-breaking Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has done it again! Now she is the first president's wife to fly the Atlantic in peace or war.

That she did, came as no surprise to this country that has long regarded her energy as a national wonder and has got used to her turning up unexpectedly just about any place she had a notion to go.

If Mrs. Roosevelt ever heard about the traditionally reserved behavior expected of first ladies, she never listened. But by being herself, by following through on her varied interests, she has set a pattern of her own.

When she moved into the White House on March 4, 1933, even before she unpacked her trunks in her new home, she began breaking precedent.

She gave a woman reporter for The Associated Press an exclusive interview—the first time the wife of a president had talked for publication and she said:

"I hate the idea that I might ever lose touch with people. I don't want to be a shut-in."

Quite a Travel Record

She never has been. Since then her travel record is something like 360,000 miles—more than 14 times around this planet—by auto, train, plane, boat and pack-horse. She has visited every state and several of the possessions.

But this is the first time aside from the trips to the Roosevelt's summer home at Campobello in New Brunswick, Canada, that she has gone to a foreign country since her husband became president.

The reason for this trip? When asked at a recent press conference if she contemplated going to England, she said thoughtfully:

"I would like to go, if I could be useful." And she added: "I would have to be very sure."

How England has stood up under the blitz will be of especial interest to her. It's a safe assumption that she'll want to see day nurseries and community kitchens. And she'll have many questions to ask.

Mrs. Roosevelt is no stranger in London. As a girl she went to Allenswood finishing school at Wimbledon, near London. Later she and her young husband were to go to Europe on a wedding trip.

She can recall that they had to persuade the Brown's hotel in London that they really couldn't afford the royal suite even though they were related to President Theodore Roosevelt.

After the armistice was signed in 1918, Mr. Roosevelt, then assistant secretary of the navy, was assigned to Europe to settle some naval affairs. He had been ill with pneumonia and was still weak. Mrs. Roosevelt went along and on this trip she saw battle fronts where fighting had ceased but six weeks before.

Big British Battle Fleet Reported in Indian Ocean

Presence of Battleships and Carriers Seen as Forerunner to Attempt To Reoccupy Burma.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 23—The presence of a powerful British battle squadron in the Indian ocean, including at least three battleships and the aircraft carrier Illustrious, was disclosed authoritatively today as a sequel to General Sir Archibald P. Wavell's declaration that Burma must be taken from the Japanese.

The squadron was said to consist of the battleships Warspite, Royal Sovereign and Resolution, presumably in addition to a large force of cruisers and destroyers, all under the command of Admiral Sir James Somerville.

The Illustrious, one of the most famous ships in the British navy, is a veteran of many Mediterranean battles and last was reported in a northern British port in April.

Possibility of an allied drive to throw the Japanese out of Burma has been brought to the fore by current conferences in India among General Wavell, commander-in-chief of British forces there; General Sir Claude Auchinleck, former commander in the Middle East who is mentioned for an important new post; and Lieut. General Joseph W. Stilwell, chief of staff of allied forces in China.

These meetings followed upon a recent inspection tour of the Burma-India frontier by General Wavell and increased aerial reconnaissance along the frontier following the end of the monsoon season.

Wavell has stressed time and again that ever since the allies were driven from Burma he has been concentrating on regaining that segment of the British empire and the reopening of the Burma road supply line to China.

Stilwell, who bluntly acknowledged that "we took a hell of a beating in Burma" also has asserted that the lost territory could and would be retaken.

ILLINOIS WOMAN AND MAID KILLED

Bodies Are Found in Home at Evanston.

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 23—Cook county state's attorney police joined Evanston authorities today in investigating the slaying of a wealthy radio manufacturer's wife and her maid, whose bodies were found in the living room of their home in the exclusive residential section of this Chicago suburb.

The slain women were Mrs. Lillian Galvin, 45, wife of Paul V. Galvin, who was reported enroute home from Washington where he had been "on government business, and Mrs. Edna Sibilski, 30-year-old farmer' daughter.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's office said that although robbery might have been the motive for the slaying—jewels were reported missing—he was not satisfied this was the only motive.

Capt. Peter J. Geishecker of the Evanston police said the bodies of Mrs. Galvin and Miss Sibilski were found about 6:15 p. m. yesterday by the Galvin's 20 year old son, Robert, upon his return home from school.

Dr. Thomas Carter, coroner's physician, said that each woman had been shot once beneath the heart with a .45 caliber automatic pistol, and each had been bludgeoned over the head, apparently with the gun.

Galvin is president of the Galvin Manufacturing Corp., manufacturers of Motorola automobile and home radios.

SHARE RIDE TO POLLS GOV. BRICKER URGES

Warns Against Apathy of Voters Nov. 3.

By The Associated Press

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 23—Citing apathy of voters toward the coming election, Gov. Bricker called on Ohioans to "share the ride" plan for motorists to get electors to the polls Nov. 3.

"There is a very real danger that many voters will not go to the polls because of their patriotic desire to save gasoline and rubber," Bricker said here last night in a statewide radio broadcast to Republican rallies in Ohio's more than 8,500 precincts. The governor is seeking a third term.

"You can get them to the polls without difficulty if you will remind them that it is also their patriotic duty to vote, and if you will help provide means of transportation on a neighborhood 'share the ride' principle. * * *

"What are we fighting this war for, if it is not to preserve the freedom of the ballot box and the right of self government which it represents?

"It would be a cruel tragedy if, having won the battle of freedom at the far outposts of the earth, our sons were to return to a nation in which the fountainhead of freedom had run dry."

At nearby East Liverpool, U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati Republican, told a Kiwanis club meeting that congress would enact a federal sales tax should Treasury Secretary Morgenthau seek an additional six billion dollars in wartime revenue.

Taft asserted a 10 per cent increase in prices could be expected annually because of war conditions and a mounting federal debt. He estimated the national debt would reach 200 billions by mid-1944.

Since the heavy Nipponese naval concentrations were first observed in the island a major enemy effort to recapture the airfield, seized by U. S. marines early in August, had been expected momentarily.

Communiques of both MacArthur and the navy have reported air attacks on the vessels. The navy declared that U. S. planes and warships have sunk or damaged four Japanese cruisers, nine destroyers and six transports since Oct. 13.

charge of a senior scout who had taken a special one-week course in such nursery school work at a senior service scout institute. She was assisted by two other senior scouts and two intermediate scouts.

Girl Scouts feel that in order to serve their community they must first know their community. Some of the troops of younger girls spent many meetings visiting various places of civic interest such as a fire station, the police station, dairies, waterworks and the City hospital, as well as learning how to find their way about town. Two troops were so interested in the hospital and what they might do for it that the troop at the Forest Lawn school hemmed dish towels for the hospital and the troop at the Oakland Heights school had a "victory garden" and gave over half the produce to the hospital.

Day Camp Lengthened

The Marion Girl Scout day camp was held for a period twice as long as that of last year, and it was open to all girls whether or not they were members of the organization. The average attendance was 64 (all ages of scouts included), and, in all, 152 girls attended the camp. Fifty-three were not Girl Scouts and several were newcomers to the community. "Activities in day camp stressed those things which are of particular importance today—resourcefulness and the ability to take care of one's self and others. Among other things they learned how to build and take care of fires, how to prepare and serve meals to large groups with limited equipment, and the tricks of stick cookery, tin-can cookery, and one-pot meals. One group of girls went on an overnight bicycle trip and cooked their meals and slept out-of-doors.

Girl Scouts also took an active part in two citywide drives which are a part of the war effort. As their part in the "victory book drive" they visited every home in the city, explained the purpose of the drive and left blue "V" stickers at houses where there would be books for the Boy Scouts to collect the following week. Because Girl Scouts are not only interested in this country's winning the war, but are future homemakers, they have been very much interested in promoting the grease-saving campaign and already have distributed to each house in the city the pamphlets explaining the campaign.

JOB INSURANCE TO HELP AFTER WAR

Atkinson Promises Aid To Discharged Soldiers.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—Administrator H. C. Atkinson estimated today the state bureau of unemployment compensation's benefit fund would reach $300,000,000 next year, adequate to aid Ohioans encountering occupational difficulties upon returning from the nation's services, after the war.

The bureau is "freezing" wage records of persons in service until after the war, Atkinson explained. Ordinarily they are kept only about two years.

Under Ohio law, an honorable discharge makes persons in service eligible for unemployment compensation benefits, now ranging from $5 to $16 weekly for a minimum of 18 weeks.

The administrator said the bureau was seeking from about 56,000 Ohio employers the names and social security numbers of all workers in service eligible for benefits.

Atkinson said the benefit fund now exceeded $250,000,000 and would be more than $275,000,000 by next Jan. 1 and $300,000,000 by the end of 1943.

"It is ample to meet any contingency that might arise, as long as this fund is restricted to use of Ohioans," Atkinson asserted.

In an advertisement appearing in a Marion County weekly publication dated October 22, 1942, over the signature of The Marion County Republican Executive Committee, French Crow, Chairman, certain statements were made reflecting on the personal business affairs of my opponent, Mr. Brooks Fletcher.

That statement was published without my knowledge or consent and I wish to refute completely the assertions made in all particulars.

AUTO TIRE PLAN READY BY NOV. 15

Increase in Reclaimed Rubber Casings Expected.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Oct. 23 — The government's plan to provide tires for all motorists—but on a rigidly controlled basis—probably will be made known by Nov. 15, according to informed automotive sources.

The program, predicated upon reduction of driving to little more than the absolutely essential, will be made possible by a substantial increase in production of re-processed or reclaimed rubber casings.

Production of reclaimed rubber tires of not more than four ounces of new rubber each may reach 25,000,000 units during the 12 months ending Oct. 31, 1943. To these may be added something like 6,000,000 tires expected to be turned over by car owners in the present collection of extra holdings and perhaps as many more from tool of new cars and trucks now the hands of dealers.

A feature of the program will be the promise that any motorist entitled to an "A" gasoline rationing card will be eligible for some kind of serviceable replacement tire when his need arises.

The tire manufacturers expect to produce about 250,000 victory casings this month. Their schedules call for 1,000,000 in November, increasing steadily to reach a total of 25,000,000 by the end of next October.

Negro in Navy Tows Life Raft to Shore

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 23 — A young naval ensign said yesterday how a powerful Negro mess attendant swam hours through shark-infested waters towing to safety a raft load of wounded seamen from a U. S. destroyer, sunk by the Japanese off the Solomons.

The ensign was Robert N. Adrian of Ontario, Ore. He was wounded in the engagement, he told in an NBC radio broadcast, but despite his injuries was able to cling to the side of the overloaded raft while the strong-stroking Negro swam inched his way shoreward.

The mess attendant was known to Adrian only as "French."

Detective Magazine Tip Lands Man in Jail Cell

By The Associated Press

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 23—A tip from a detective story magazine today kept Ralph E. Richards, 16, from continuing his promotion of a radio victory bond campaign here.

Richards, sought in connection with a Los Angeles mail fraud case, was arrested yesterday through the alertness of two Steubenville policemen. Captain Edward Nolan and Sergeant William Cassel said they picked him up after identifying him from a picture and article they had seen in a detective story magazine.

Richards admitted he was wanted for mail fraud in California, officers reported, and he was turned over to federal authorities who placed him in county jail temporarily.

By The Associated Press

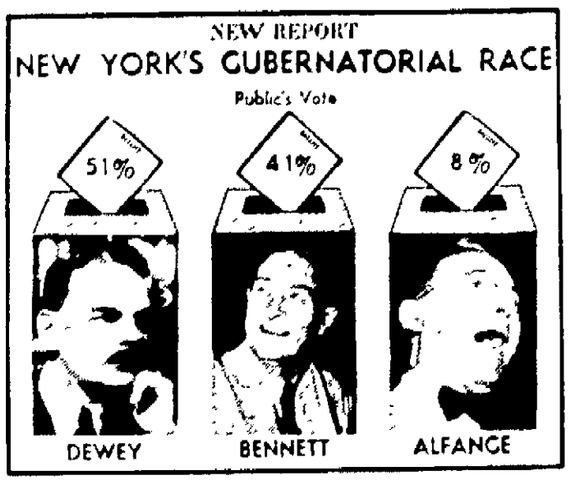
Dewey Still Leading In N. Y. Race, Survey Shows



By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 23—With the election eleven days away, Thomas E. Dewey continues to hold the lead over his two opponents for the governorship of New York in the latest statewide poll by the Institute.

Reflecting sentiment since the last report, Oct. 16, this new survey finds party lines in New York unchanged, and gives the three leading candidates the following percentages as compared to previous results:

	Today	Oct. 16	Sept. 27
Dewey (R)	51%	51%	53%
Bennett (D)	41	41	37
Alfange (Am. Labor)	8	8	10

The vote for Israel Amter, Communist candidate, and other minor party candidates continues to total about one per cent.

Bennett May Gain

In the remaining days before the election, with the Bennett campaign reaching a peak and the Democrats concentrating on getting out their vote, it is entirely possible that the situation may change in Bennett's favor. Today's poll results do not constitute the final report on the election. A new survey is now in progress to check last minute trends.

The situation in New York City and upstate remains unchanged for the present, except for a slight gain upstate in the Dewey vote. Whereas the Republican candidate had 64 per cent upstate in the Oct. 16 report, today he polls 65 per cent there.

	N. Y. City	Upstate
Dewey	37%	65%
Bennett	48	33
Alfange	15	2

The continued strength of Alfange in the city is of special interest in this unusual three-cornered race where voters are crossing party lines. The American Labor Party candidate is drawing his votes almost entirely from Bennett.

Farley-Bennett Problem

The chief problem facing the Farley-Bennett forces is not the situation upstate. There the Alfange threat is relatively unimportant, and the Republican-Democratic division of the vote is not much different from what it was in 1938.

The big problem is New York City itself. The city traditionally rolls up about the same size vote as the upstate counties combined. In every election for the past twenty years the Democrats have always been able to carry the city by a majority sufficient to offset the traditional Republican lead upstate.

In 1938, for example, Governor Lehman's vote of 65 per cent in the city cancelled out the 63 per cent which the Republicans had upstate, and returned Lehman to office with a majority of about 70,000.

This time, owing to the fact that Alfange is drawing votes from the Democrats, Bennett is polling only 48 per cent in the city—not enough to wipe out the upstate Republican lead.

It is because of this peculiar situation in the city that the Republicans may carry the state for the first time since 1922.

It's Your Responsibility Now

THE WAR revenue bill that congress has passed and President Roosevelt has signed is vastly more than just one more tax law.

It is the heaviest schedule of taxation in history, with everything that implies for taxpayers of the United States. It has been called the worst tax bill in history, too, and the best its champions can say in its behalf is that it might have been worse. But these are comparative aspects.

As a taxpayer under the bill—nearly every citizen is a taxpayer under this bill—you are interested in absolute aspects. You want to know what the law will do to you. The answer to that is not hard to determine. It will give you a headache.

First, it makes you personally responsible for the financial problems of the United States government in a war whose cost is going to be so huge that no one pretends to comprehend the astronomical figures. Unless you are one of the relatively few citizens who have paid heavy taxes directly to the United States treasury before, the new tax law is going to make you federal tax-conscious for the first time. You're going to have to scratch to find the wherewithal to pay what you owe the treasury.

If you are inclined to think about such things, you are going to realize that addition of millions of new names to the federal income tax rolls marks the end of an era in which Washington gathered financial obligations like a free spender picking up dinner checks. From this point on, everyone pays his own check. The illusion of a free treat made possible by the federal government's ability to get money from banks, corporations and wealthy individuals without disturbing the bulk of the citizenry is shattered. From now on, government spending is going to be a Dutch treat, with everybody from the hugest corporation down to the most insignificant wage earner paying all the traffic can bear.

No longer will federal taxation policy be worked out on a basis of "soaking the rich" for the benefit of the non-rich. The potentialities of the whole population are going to be tested now; the United States treasury is going to find out what the traffic can bear. In this connection, furthermore, it must be remembered that the new tax law is only the beginning. The secretary of the treasury already has asked for legislation to produce another $6,000,000,000 in revenue, and most of it will have to be drawn from small incomes. The levies on corporations and wealthy individuals already have reached confiscation levels."

Starting To Vote at 18

THE PURELY political proposal by Sen. Vandenberg for amending the Constitution to give voting rights to 'teen age fighting men of the United States has no proper place in any program of wartime discussion.

The senator's declaration that if young men of 18 are to be drafted they should be able to vote is illogical and opportunistic; at least, he failed to mention it before, when young men of 18 were enlisting.

As for the illogicality, it does not follow that military service at 18 connotes the right to vote. In many cases, 21 is too tender an age for that responsibility. Conversely, some citizens could be trusted with the vote before they are 18. There is no answer to the question of what is the proper age for starting to vote. Russia says 18. Germany says 20. The United States and Great Britain say 21. Norway says 23, Finland 24 and Japan 25. Strangely, scant attention has been given to what may be the more important question of the proper age for ceasing to vote.

In any event, there is neither the time nor inclination to argue such matters in the middle of a war. They are peacetime topics. Perhaps 18 is the proper age to begin voting, but 1942 plainly is not the proper time to start arguing about anything except how to get on with the war.

The Symbolic Tin Can

WAR PRODUCTION board's order bringing 15 states into the tin can collection program is going to produce some deep thinking along with a lot of important salvage.

The tin can sometimes has been used as a symbol of modern civilization, but it is more clearly a symbol of the paradox of waste in an economy based on constantly lower cost for constantly better products.

It has been the theory—and the fact—of the use of tin cans that the material in them was too cheap to be salvaged economically. Yet, the war has revealed that nothing is too cheap to be salvaged economically. The United States stands in acute need of everything, even junk.

Problems in economics, it seems, cannot be considered apart from the factor of time, which changes all things. If it had been necessary for the government to subsidize plants to reclaim tin and steel from tin cans, the cost would have been more than justified by the possession of an adequate supply of tin and an important amount of scrap steel when the United States entered the war.

News Behind the News

War Manpower Problems Vary Greatly Over Country; Solution Difficult.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—Everyone agrees the draft act is inefficient and the manpower situation is in a muddle.

Amazing instances of stupid drafting made by local boards have been accumulated in little-noticed congressional hearings. General Marshall told of finding in a North Carolina hospital a recent draftee 48 years old with angina.

An irreplaceable mechanic of six years' experience in a vital war industry was drafted because he was only recently married, while a married bookkeeper in the same office was left on a job which could be easily filled by a woman.

Every time Draft Director Hershey makes a speech prophesying that further heavy withdrawals of manpower will be made for the army, single men or even married men in defense industries run out and enlist to obtain preferred positions.

But the local boards pay less attention apparently to General Hershey's orders. Each has its own localized problem and acts in its own individual way.

It is apparent the draft law does not make sense.

Recommended Cure

Now the Tolan committee of the house has come forward with a report recommending that the situation be cured by establishing a new overall governmental agency, an office of war mobilization.

Apparently it wants this manpower agency vastly organized on a "regional, district and local office level," but would leave to it the details of working out the problem. All it wants the new board for is to remove the contentions between existing agencies, which it sharply criticizes.

From what Mr. Roosevelt said, it appears the administration will come along next week with a program from the labor-management advisory committee, which works under Manpower McNutt, who thinks a compulsory draft is the solution.

These expressions of Mr. Tolan's committee, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. McNutt drew the attention of the country. But, while they were speaking, a small war materials manufacturer from Milwaukee appeared in some obscurity before the senate labor committee, and suggested what seems to be a planer analysis of the problem an a simpler solution.

Problem of Individuals

His point was that this is a problem of individuals, and no fair or efficient over-all regulations can remedy it. It was in his factory that the mechanic was drafted and the bookkeeper left on.

He said further, that he had spent a year hunting a cost accountant, without whom his business could not be efficiently operated, but as soon as the man was broken in, he was drafted.

The importance of each man to this business, varied not alone on his job as mechanic, accountant or bookkeeper, but on a basis of experience. Key men in any department simply could not be replaced.

His problem also varied with those of other similar manufacturers (steam engines, small boat engines) doing war work in other sections.

If his business was in New York, for instance, he would have no difficulty on replacements, and the larger industries in Detroit, he noted, would not miss any ten men as much as he might miss one.

There are about 650,000 people in his area, he testified, but only 100,000 could be classified as a gross workers pool from which to seek replacements, while New York and Detroit would draw on millions.

His problem is the whole problem. His experience shows that any efficient management of manpower must consider the specific condition of the individual worker, and the specific need of the individual plant, the individual locality.

No two are alike. Obviously, no regulations can be drawn up in Washington which will solve all fairly and efficiently. Nor will reorganization, more reorganization and still more reorganization of existing agencies do the job.

Individual Study Needed

To get at it, there must be a thorough investigation of each individual case by a competent government agent. Each draft board must have at its disposal a staff which can ascertain facts, not from a complicated questionnaire, but by personal inquiry.

There are vast governmental agencies already flung on a "regional, district and local office level" around the country (social security, public health, national youth administration, agriculture, with its county agents, many others.)

On individual plant problems, there are regional, district and local engineers of the war production board and the office of price administration, who could size up individual manpower problems without additional cost to the taxpayers.

Some congressional testimony suggests this is being done in Britain. The system of district quotas and over-all national regulations is reinforced there by personal investigation of an army man or a branch official of the draft administration.

Because Britain does it does not necessarily mean it is good. But if they can reduce such a vast problem involving several million men into the fair adjustment of each individual problem of each man, certainly we can do it.

Then, at least, some one will be responsible if absurdities occur.

Battles of the Ballots

Political Crazy Quilt

Several New Patches Added in 1942 Election.

EARL WARREN

JAMES M. CURLEY

• • •

(One of a series on this year's important election campaigns.)

• • •

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
Wide World Features Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—This year's election wars are adding several plain and fancy patches to the crazy quilt of American politics.

Out in California, where political cults and economic panaceas have bloomed like desert cactus, there are signs that the Republicans may stage a long-delayed comeback.

Back east in staid New Hampshire, a two-time Republican governor has switched to the Democratic party and is running for election to the United States senate.

Down south in Georgia, the red galluses of Gene Talmadge, the "Sage of Sugar Creek," no longer embellish the limelight spot in southern politics.

Smith Loses in Michigan

In Michigan, Judge Homer Ferguson trounced Gerald L. K. Smith, former aide of Huey Long, in the race for the Republican nomination for United States senator. Smith ran on a "tires for everybody" platform. Smith is running in the finals, however, as an independent against Judge Ferguson and Democratic Senator Prentiss M. Brown.

Republicans predict they will win the California governorship. They cite the primary showing of Attorney General Earl Warren, the G.O.P. candidate. Warren not only won the Republican nomination by a big margin, but he also came within 116,000 of getting as many Democratic votes as Governor Culbert L. Olson.

Governor Olson, who ran only on the Democratic ticket, contends that 1,200,000 Democrats did not vote in the primary. California has a law which permits candidates to seek nomination of other parties as well as their own.

Murphy Opposes Bridges

Former Governor Francis P. Murphy of New Hampshire, who left the Republican party after years of criticism of its leadership will contest with Republican Senator Styles Bridges.

Massachusetts' 68-year-old political war horse, James M. Curley, defeated Rep. Thomas H. Eliot, grandson of Harvard's celebrated former President Charles W. Eliot, for Democratic nomination to Congress.

Curley, once governor, three times mayor of Boston and twice a House member years ago, is figured to win the election finale because the district is strongly Democratic.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., back from a tour with an Army tank unit in the African desert, won a smashing victory in the primary. He is opposed in the finals by Rep. Joseph E. Casey, ardent supporter of the Roosevelt administration.

President Harding in a letter made public by R. B. Creager, chairman of the Texas State Republican Executive committee, approved the action of his party in nominating for the U. S. senate on the Republican ticket a lifelong Democrat, George B. Peddy. The President said, "I like to think of the aspiring Republicans of Texas being committed to the fullest maintenance of American freedom, determined to oppose all grouping of classes and ending dictation which is contrary to American ideals." The action of the Republicans in nominating Peddy was an expression of their disapproval of Ku Klux Klan activities.

Dr. A. Rhu returned from a meeting of Pennsylvania railway surgeons.

Announcement was made that Benjamin F. Waples would retire Nov. 1 from his position as cashier of the Marion Savings bank. He was one of the founders of the bank and had been cashier since its founding.

16 Questions for Cities

Washington Group Sets War Standard.

THE Association of Washington Cities has prepared the following wartime questionnaire, for out the county, applicable throughout thee country, according to the American Municipal Association.

In addition to preparations for civilian defense which will actually work if an air raid alert is sounded, the city to be rated "A" must be able to answer satisfactorily the following questions:

1. Has your city a War Bond payroll allotment plan for its employes?

2. It is cooperating with the state salvage committee in finding and conserving materials usable in war production?

3. Are you cooperating with the office of defense transportation in putting into effect an emergency transportation program?

4. Have you developed a program for municipal employes to reduce tire use and maintain all motor vehicles in the best possible condition?

5. Have you checked garbage and other truck routes to cut mileage?

6. Have you checked all materials and use of street signals to determine if unnecessary "stops" may be eliminated?

7. Are you preparing blueprints for advanced plans of public works and services to help offset post-war depression?

8. Are you making manpower or other savings in administering regular services, as well as cutting the budget, to make greater contributions to war activity?

9. Since capital improvements probably will be impossible for several years, have steps been taken to maintain all physical facilities in the best possible shape?

10. Are you withhholding building permits from applicants who cannot present a certificate from the WPB authorizing construction?

11. Have you seriously considered suspending local building, plumbing and electrical codes to conform to the requirements of defense housing critical lists?

12. Have you determined the security of essential city facilities and taken all possible steps to protect them against destructive acts?

13. Is your city really suppressing prostitution and helping reduce street and tavern solicitation?

14. Are you helping provide recreation for military men visiting your city?

15. Have you taken steps to protect irreplacable public records?

16. Are you facing the fact that, unless administered under martial law, the city is the only agency that can properly operate local defense services, and that primary responsibility of preparing for the safety of lives and property of the community rests with the city government?

Way To Get Coffee

Couple Fined For Leaving Child, 4, Alone at Night

Parents of a four and a half year old child were fined $25 in juvenile court this morning after the child, found sitting on the porch of a South Prospect residence at 3:30 a. m. today, had been removed to the county juvenile detention home.

The mother and child came here yesterday from Pennsylvania for a visit with the father, who works in Marion, and after putting the child to bed the couple went to the home of friends. The child awakened in the night and finding herself in a strange place evidently started to look for her parents. Police going by in a cruiser saw the child on the porch. Other children of the couple remained with relatives in Pennsylvania during the mother's visit here.

THE seventeenth anniversary of the founding of Alpha Iota, business women's sorority, was observed with a banquet last evening by members of Zeta Theta chapter. "Keep 'em Flying" was the theme carried out in the appointments and the table was decorated with miniature figures representing the armed forces and airplanes. American flags in groups of four added a colorful note to the table and favors were miniature American flags. The speaker was Chaplain H. D. Bennett of the 333rd Railroad Engineers.

Chaplain Bennett's talk was informal and he told interesting experiences in line with his work as chaplain and in connection with the life of a soldier. He praised the work of the American Red Cross and told of the help extended by that organization in emergencies and along his special line of work.

Following the chaplain's talk Don Sansotta, entertained with a program of magic. During a short business session Miss Yagodic was named to represent the chapter at a meeting of the Community children's Christmas party committee.

Congressman Frederick C. Smith's Record on Defense and War Appropriations

The purpose of this ad is to show the voters of the Eighth Ohio Congressional District how utterly misleading, false and malicious are the charges Brooks Fletcher has made against Congressman Smith's defense and war record. He has stated that Congressman Smith:

"found fault with everything, opposed everything, refused to cooperate and hampered our Government by voting against all early Defense Plans" and "opposed our Government's early Defense Plans to provide our Armed Forces with badly-needed ships, guns and planes."

Following is a Summary of Congressman Smith's Record on Defense and War Appropriations — Not Just Since Pearl Harbor, but since Jan. 3, 1939.

183 billion dollars has been appropriated and authorized for defense and war purposes since Congressman Smith took office on Jan. 3, 1939.

Congressman Smith voted and supported 169 billion dollars of this amount, or 92.5%! The 7.5% against which he voted involved lend-lease. He voted against those lend-lease appropriations because he felt at that time we should not be giving away our war supplies to other nations while our own armed forces were sadly in need of armaments, particularly our soldiers in the Philippines and other points in the Pacific.

GENERAL McARTHUR'S MEMORABLE STATEMENT AFTER THE FALL OF CORREGIDOR: "TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE," CONFIRMS THE POSITION CONGRESSMAN SMITH TOOK ON THOSE LEND-LEASE APPROPRIATIONS.

Congressman Smith in February, 1939, less than two months after he took his first oath in Congress, voted to authorize the construction of 5,500 airplanes

Congressman Smith in February, 1939, voted for an authorization for the defense and fortification of the Panama Canal

Congressman Smith Voted for Hemisphere Defense! Congressman Smith Voted for the Two Ocean Navy!

LONGER WORK WEEK ASKED

Sen. Reynolds Proposes Increase to 56 or 57 Hours for U. S.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct 23—Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the senate military committee today advocated boosting the standard work week to 57 hours and eliminating premium pay for overtime as an immediate solution for labor shortage.

He added that a good many manhours could be saved by eliminating strikes, but did not suggest how they would be eliminated.

Interviewed before his committee resumed its questioning of high government officials on the need for national service legislation, Reynolds expressed strong opposition to importation of "alien labor" to help with harvesting emergencies.

Said Reynolds:

"We should take into consideration the availability of the manpower already here and the possibility of working longer hours."

Solution To Problem

"If we want to solve the manpower problem immediately, we can increase the 10 hour week to 56 or 57 hours and eliminate time-and-a-half and double time for overtime.

"I say 57 hours because Great Britain is working 57, Germany is working 60, and Japan 70."

Reynolds said there were men in Washington urging the admission of "several hundred thousand alien laborers."

"And that," he declared, "would be the worst thing that ever happened to American labor."

He called specific attention to a statement by Senator Downey (D-Calif), before the committee Wednesday that from 100,000 to 150,000 Mexican laborers were needed immediately to harvest west coast crops but that federal agencies had been able to furnish only about 4,000.

Ask Labor Suggestions

The North Carolinian said he would like to have "the friendly suggestions" of such union leaders as William Green, Philip Murray and John L. Lewis.

"Food, bullets, soldiers—everything depends upon our manpower," he said.

Although Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the war manpower commission testified Wednesday that "we must not stop short of compulsion" to keep war production going, Reynolds said he feared any compulsory national service legislation would have a bad effect on the morale of workers and their families.

"It would uproot them from their homes, and jam the overburdened railroads to move thousands of people from one part of the country to another," he said.

Mackenzie Finds New Light On Indian Question

The following dispatch, filed by Sir Stafford Cripps by the British Minister to China, the first time, from the War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

LONDON, Oct 23—Sir Stafford Cripps, leader of the house of commons and member of the war cabinet who last spring made an ineffectual attempt to persuade Indian factions to accept the British government's offer of dominion status, has given me an interview throwing new light on the dispute which involves the independence of close to 400,000,000 people.

Sir Stafford says the key to the situation is Mohandas K. Gandhi's persistent support of the policy of non-violence.

The point made is that it is impossible for Gandhi's personal adherents to participate in any government, no matter what its nature, which wages war. Thus England, which is in the midst of a life and death struggle, is asked to countenance an Indian government that not only would not fight, but might even insist on making peace with Britain's enemies.

"I don't believe that Gandhi, who wasn't present when the decision was taken, was personally responsible for the rejection of the government's proposal," Sir Stafford added.

"However, his influence and ideas dominated those of the working committee of the All-India congress, who did turn down the offer. We must have the agreement of the congress for any solution."

Next to Prime Minister Churchill, Sir Stafford is probably the most talked of man in Britain. Many people believe he may one day be prime minister.

Sir Stafford is 53, tall, slim and straight with graying hair. He has an agreeable smile and probably is good looking, though the thing that impresses me about his face is the strength of its lines.

Sir Stafford speaks in the highest terms of Gandhi as one of the great thinkers and leaders of our time.

"I believe Gandhi is quite sincere," he said, "but with his passionate belief in non-violence he must keep the congress non-violent and so non-cooperative with a government which is at war.

"He is the greatest single influence in India, or at least in the All-India congress. We must have the congress for any complete solution.

"The tragedy of it is from the Indian standpoint that had there been an agreement and had a government been set up through a council with the viceroy Indians would have absolute control of the situation."

I asked Sir Stafford if there still were a chance for a settlement. He nodded but it wasn't a hopeful gesture.

of tanks because of an increase in the unit size.

To a question as to whether this same change applied to airplanes, Mr. Roosevelt replied in the affirmative, as he did to another inquiry whether the result would be "harder hitting power." The planes, he said, will have more gunpower and longer range.

The President said it always should be borne in mind that no one type of plane was best all over the world because of different conditions. We can't be didactic about it, the President commented, and say that type X is the best.

A type X plane may be sent to a section which has been using a type Y, he went on, and they love the X and consider it a great deal better than the Y. But at another point, he said the reverse might be true.

Dutch Patriots Sink Nazi Ammunition Ship

COFFEE SUBSTITUTE SOUGHT BY PACKERS

A Little Toasted Bran Makes Supply Go Farther.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 — The widespread coffee scarcity had processers hunting today for substitutes, with almost the frenzy of a housewife haunting the stores for a pound of coffee.

You may be asked to mix a little toasted bran with your coffee to make it go farther, but roasters hope it won't be necessary.

They're trying to find a good substitute, or "extender,"—just in case.

As talk of rationing increased one big dealer suggested every other sugar coupon be good also for coffee until formal rationing books could be issued. The shortage was called partly "temporary" and roasters talked of a probable increase in supplies.

Oliver J. Corbett, secretary of the national retail tea and coffee merchants association, said in Chicago many packers were trying coffee compounds containing as much as 25 per cent rye, malt, Mexican chick peas, soy beans, barley or other cereal.

Corbett said such adulteration was legal if correctly described on each package.

Coffee importers optimistically cited reports that coffee shipments to this country probably would increase soon with a decline in Atlantic ship sinkings and a potential increase in the number of ships available.

While they expect rationing of coffee to come not later than the end of the year, they said it probably would be "generous" or even "temporary."

FOOD FRETS TRINIDAD

Trinidad has established a food marketing and distribution program to coordinate storage and transportation after alternative steps by the Port of Spain authorities failed to improve the food situation materially. In its efforts to make up for declining imports the authorities launched a program of intensive food cultivation early in the year. The purpose was to increase domestic production and encourage a "back to the land movement." A "bulk purchase" program was also adopted. While these measures proved helpful they did not take up the slack caused by an inadequate volume of imports, and prices rose sharply.

NEW YORK HAS FIRST DAYTIME AIR RAID ALERT

One of the busiest corners in New York City, 42nd street and Fifth avenue, is seen (top photo) a few minutes before the city's first daylight air raid alert was sounded, freezing the metropolis in a state of suspended animation for 23 minutes. Bottom photo, taken a few minutes after the sirens wailed, shows how the sector was cleared of pedestrians and all motor traffic directed to the curb. At left, Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia, who is one of the city's thousands of volunteer air raid wardens, leads a woman pedestrian to a shelter. Judging from this picture, the mayor prefers carrying, instead of wearing, his raid helmet. (Phonephotos)

'Dig Down Deeper,' Uncle Sam Chants To U. S. Taxpayers

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—The [illegible] tables show how stiff increases in the regular income tax and surtax rates and lower personal credits, plus a new 5 per cent levy on all income above $624 will affect individuals under the bill signed by President Roosevelt Wednesday.

For purposes of the table, net income subject to the regular income tax is computed at 90 per cent of gross income on the assumption that taxes, contributions and other deductions average 10 per cent. The victory tax applies to all of the above $624, and is offset in part by the flexible personal exemption credit column.

Harding To Play Sandusky Tonight; Irish Lose to Mansfield Madiso

Prexy Eleven Faces Biggest Test in Game Tonight at 8:30 in Harding Stadium.

"WE'RE facing our toughest 1942 foe — Sandusky — tonight." That's Coach Vic Dorris' terse statement this morning when questioned about tonight's all-important Marion Harding-Sandusky game to be played at 8:30 p. m. at Harding stadium.

Coach Dorris indicated that last week's 14-13 win over a previously undefeated-unscored on Ashland Hilltopper eleven had taken plenty out of his charges. Two of the players in last week's game probably should not have been in the game at all, but without them Harding's chances for victory over Ashland would have been pretty uncertain. They are Harold Jenkins, who ran 63 yards to spell defeat for the A's, and LeRoy Harvey, who booted the point after touchdown after Jenkins' long run to give Harding its one-point margin.

For the Ashland game Jenkins was only slightly on the way to recovering from a bad head cold, while Harvey was in a game uniform for the first time in two weeks after suffering a head concussion in the Mt. Vernon game earlier in the season.

However, both boys are again in perfect physical condition and should be important factors in Harding's attempt to defend its four game win streak tonight.

Coach Dorris gave his charges a final look at Sandusky plays last night in an hour-long practice under the stadium lights.

The Prexy mentor again reminded the Hardings to watch out for Robert Cooper, a Negro halfback described by Harding scouts as about the only boy capable of catching Harding's Harold Jenkins.

Sandusky Coach Wallace Glenwright said last night that he intended to start Cooper along with Dick Marshall, Dick Freitas and Myron Wilk in the backfield. This quartet averages about 155 pounds. The Sandusky's starting line will average about 185 pounds with the tackles packing most of that weight.

In the first five games this season, Sandusky won two, defeating Mansfield and Fremont Ross, and lost three to Cleveland Collinwood, Elyria and Lorain.

Probable starting line-ups follow:

Harding		Sandusky
Williams	LE	Alexander
Kay	LT	Kahler
Dixon	LG	Fox
Hurst	C	Babcock
Boyd	RG	Ebert
Fazio	RT	Fedderson
Benedict	RE	Green

SINKWICH, GEORGIA FACE CINCINNATI U.

Game Is No. 1 Contest in Ohio Saturday.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—Ohio State's battling and baffling Bucks, the nation's top grid team, meet Northwestern on the Wildcats' home lot Saturday—but there are some pretty fair gridiron scraps on tap for the Buckeye stay-at-homes.

In a curtain-raiser last night, Youngstown college blanked Geneva, Pa., college 20 to 0 to snap the Pennsylvania's four-game winning streak. Youngstown scored touchdowns in the last three periods and place-kicked two of its three tries for extra points.

Of the 16 contests involving Ohio college squads Saturday, 14 are on the local gridirons, and some of them are certain to offer plenty of thrills.

Undoubtedly the No. 1 fracas takes place at Cincinnati, as Coach Joe Meyers' University of Cincinnati unbeaten-untied Bearcats face mighty Georgia and All-America Frankie Sinkwich, the running-passing-kicking terror from Youngstown.

Up at Bowling Green the Falcons are having fine trouble as they prepare to meet Miami. The Bee-Gees have been beaten once in four starts—and that by a single point.

Four Ohio conference games are on tap but all eight teams have been beaten in the league. The loop contests are Findlay at Capital, Mount Union at Heidelberg, Muskingum at Wooster and Baldwin Wallace at Wittenberg.

Other scraps scheduled Saturday are:

Kenyon at Hiram, Ohio Wesleyan at Ohio university, Oberlin at Swarthmore, Marshall at Toledo, Western Reserve at Kent State, Xavier at Dayton, Wright-Patterson fields at Defiance, Denison against Miami radio naval unit at Hamilton, and Marietta against Rio Grande at Wellston, the latter three being under the lights.

Otterbein's four-time winner meets the Grosse Isle naval unit at Detroit tonight.

Case and John Carroll each unbeaten in the Ohio conference, meet tonight at Cleveland. Another night fray sends Ohio Northern against Bluffton at Kenton.

REDS PAY DIVIDEND

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 23 — The Cincinnati Reds declared a 1942 dividend of $1 a share for its 6,000 shares of common stock, compared with $5 in 1941 and $12 in 1940.

FRED CARONE WINS FEATURE MAT MATCH FROM RUFUS JONES

Nick Billings and Axel Madsen Score Preliminary Victories.

Nick Billings, Axel Madsen and Fred Carone were the winners in last night's all-star wrestling attraction before a near-capacity house at the Armory arena.

Employing a body slam and press at the end of six minutes of action, Billings copped the 30-minute preliminary match from Wild Bill Zimovich, the Nicaraguan.

An injury received when both fighters fell from the ring cost Buddy Knox of Knoxville, Tenn., a defeat in the semi-final match and gave Axel Madsen another major local win. The fluke fall occurred while Knox was executing a series of slams. Both fighters got too close to the ropes and fell from the ring. Knox struck a small table at the side of the ring and bruised his side. The Tennessee star was unable to finish the fight and the match was automatically awarded to Madsen.

Packed With Action

The feature match between Carone of Boston and Rufus Jones of New York City was packed with action from the start. Fat Freddy, one of the most hated mat performers to show his wares here but also one of the most talented, led off early in the first fall. In all of his previous fights here, Jones has been the man to start the rough work. Despite his attempts to slug, choke and bite, he failed to keep up with Carone, whose fury at times extended even to Referee Bud Kirk of Lima.

Jons took the opening fall, pinning Fat Freddy in 11 minutes with a series of head butts climaxed by a body press. Carone came back strong to salvage the second fall and even the match. Besting Jones first in unorthodox fighting, Carone then proved his superiority in actual wrestling.

Fouls Repeatedly

Five times during this fall Carone slugged Referee Kirk and Kirk was forced to drag Carone into a neutral corner at least as many times because of other repeated fouls. A bear hug finally spelled Jones' downfall after six minutes of machine gun action.

Both fighters resumed rough tactics in the third and final fall, but Carone, not to be outdone, pummeled Jones around the ring for three minutes before applying a second winning bear hug.

The victory over Jones was Carone's first major win in Marion and consequently makes him one of the leading fighters in Promoter Les Fishbaugh's stable.

Shut Out-Alsab Duel Is Cancelled for 1942

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—The three-year-old racing scramble between Shut Out and Alsab is going to remain a turf omelet for the remainder of the year.

The plans for Equipoise's best son and the Al Sabath colt to settle the championship between them were flattened today when it was learned that Shut Out came sore in his latest race and would be retired until 1943.

Tigers' Inaugural Football Game Ends in Scoreless Tie

King Keller and Martin Lewis Star on Defense as War Plant Gridders Hold Columbus Team.

The Marion Tigers, composed of employes of the Scioto Ordnance Plant, battled a strong Columbus Denton Service team to a scoreless tie in semi-professional football's debut in Harding stadium last night. It was the Tigers first local appearance.

Outplayed slightly on the offensive, the Tigers fought back brilliantly to steal the defensive show. On at least four occasions a brilliant Tiger line, including such stars as King Keller, Martin Lewis and Pete Bascos to mention a few, turned back desperate attempts to score by the Columbus eleven.

For the most part the Tiger line-up included former Marion Harding and St. Mary stars. Keller, Lewis and Bascos all were Harding stars and all three won first team berths on all-N. C. O. squads while in high school.

Keller, the outstanding star of the game, won honorable mention on two all-Ohio teams selected by the Associated Press besides selection on two all-league squads.

A steady downpour of rain throughout the first half kept both teams from making any serious attempt to score. Featuring the first two periods was a punting duel between the two teams, John Edington and Nick Cafagno kicking for the Tigers and Link for the Dentons. A succession of penalties and failure of two end runs near the end of the first half set the locals back to their own six yard line. The period ended as the locals shifted into punt formation.

During the half-time intermission the rain subsided, but neither team could open up with their highly-vaunted ground attack in the final half. Passing, likewise, was almost impossible. Except for two Columbus drives, stopped within the locals' 15 by a strong line, action in the final half was between the 30-yard markers.

Line-ups:

STARS FOR BUCKEYES

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—One of the biggest boosts for football we've seen in a long time was a letter that Harvard's Dick Harlow read to the Boston sports writers the other day ..It came from Lieut. Harry Kopp, one of Dick's former Western Maryland players and later a coach, who is in England with the army...Can't quote it all, but here are a few of his remarks: "We play about twice a week. We haven't any padding at all, but that doesn't stop the soldiers. Injuries are nil...No one can ever tell me the American youth is not as tough as anything that walks.. It's the best morale builder I have found yet...We have a real tough one coming up soon and no one is afraid. In fact we are ready for the kick-off. I hope it isn't a forward pass but a real dobie off-tackle play."

OHIO HIGH SCHOOLS, COLLEGES HOPE TO CONTINUE ATHLETICS

Scholastic Sports Chief Says Draft Will Not Affect Basketball.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—Ohio's 1,150 high schools, and the 20-college Ohio athletic conference, hope to "carry on" with their sports programs if and when the 18-19-year-old draft calls their outstanding athletes away to war.

George Daniel of Lorain, commissioner of the college circuit, in summing up the loop's war year outlook, declared:

"We hope we'll be able to carry on in some way, but we don't know for certain, and we don't believe anyone else does. We have 20 colleges, all with small enrollment, and what effect the draft law will have is very uncertain.

May Shift Track Meet

"The larger schools can drop hundreds of students and still survive, but for the smaller colleges the prospects are dark. Our only hope is that some students may be given deferments to continue special scholastic objects.

"We will finish the football season, and start the basketball campaign, unless transportation problems get too tough. Plans are going ahead for the spring track meet at Muskingum, but a change may be necessary to obtain a site more available to transportation."

Commissioner Daniel said he discussed conference problems a few days ago with Dr. J. H. Nichols of Oberlin, league secretary. Final decision on shifting the track meet, and on certain basketball problems, will be reached at the Dec. 5 conference meeting here.

H. R. Townsend, state high school athletic chief, said he expected "the draft to be pretty hard on the scholastic athletic set-up," and then added: "but such is war—and we must make the best of it."

Wreck Senior Classes

Townsend said the proposed draft would "just about wreck the senior classes" in high schools, since most of the members of the graduating group are 18 or 19 years old.

Basketball probably would not be affected too much by the loss of the seniors," Townsend said, "for players in that sport develop fast and the youngsters could step into the veterans' shoes in good shape.

"We'll have to wait to see what the bill decrees as finally passed, before we'll know the full effect. The senate measure would allow the boys to finish out the semester before being called, while the house bill allows no deferments.

"If the senate version gets the final okay, it won't matter much this year, but if the house bill is the one agreed upon, a lot of high schools will lose their basketball stars. But we'll have plenty of basketball, no matter what happens. It takes more than an army draft, gasoline and tire rationing, and transportation difficulties to halt these Ohio kids."

Absence of Murphy and Downpour Rain Ends St. Mary Win Streak at Two Games.

MINUS the services of their star back, fleet-footed Bob M. and unable to use their highly vaunted aerial attack beca a steady downpour of rain, Marion St. Mary's two game win ended last night as a strong Mansfield Madison team carved 13-6 victory at Mansfield.

Subbing for Murphy at the fullback was featherweight Norris, 140-pound package of dynamite who snared the s role last night with another bantamweight, Danny McKinnis, latter brought the opening kickoff back 20 yards to his 34 start of the game. Two plays later he cut through tackle, sho a pair of would-be tacklers and scooted 63 yards to score his only touchdown. An attempted pass, Moran to B. Tobin, f extra point was incomplete.

Intercept Pass

Following a punt exchan Mary took over on its own yard line. After picking first down on two thrusts t the Madison line, St. Mary c to pass from its own 20. The Moran to McGinnis, was cepted by Mansfield Quarte Bader, who ran it back touchdown behind beautiful terence. Hammer plunged extra point to put Mansfi front, 7-6.

Another exchange of punt the Mansfield team jou across another touchdown. A St. Mary drive bogged down in their own territory. Jim ler punted to Mansfield's 43 off six tacklers after clear Marion line. Anthony rare yards to score Mansfield's touchdown late in the qu quarter. F. Tobin stopped tempted plunge for the point.

Neither team threatened second and third periods, but way in the fourth quarter Mary drive from around field carried all the way Mansfield 14 before endin the start of the drive two field players were removed the game for attempting to a fight.

Wildcats Stress Goal Line Stands for Buck Invasion

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 23—Northwestern's Wildcats, eager to regain their lost football prestige, today were reported itching to get in action against Ohio here Saturday, but Wildcat Coach Lynn Waldorf indicated he was plenty worried over the scoring prowess of the nation's No. 1 team.

Waldorf stressed goal line stands as the Wildcats ended heavy workouts in preparation for the invasion of Coach Paul Brown's Buckeyes, whose four straight victories have earned them a place at the top of a nation-wide poll of sports writers. The Wildcats ran through several defense systems near the touchdown stripe.

The game began to look like a ground-aerial duel between two of the nation's outstanding stars —Fullback Gene Fekete of Ohio State who has averaged 13 points a game, and Otto Graham, Wildcat pass flipper, who completed 20 of 29 heaves for 295 yards as the 'Cats lost to Michigan 34 to 15 last Saturday.

Brown's Bucks—36 of them—arrive in Chicago today with an afternoon workout scheduled in Dyche stadium here.

The Bucks will take the field Saturday without the services of regular halfback Paul Sarringhaus, who Brown said would be out with a lame ankle. This wasn't expected to bother the Ohioans any, whoever, as Backs Tommy James and George Slusser, both of whom learned their football under Brown at Massilloh, O., High school are considered capable replacements.

Northwestern will be looking for its first conference win, having dropped its only Big Ten contests with Purdue and Michigan.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 23—Hotel operator Theodor DeWitt has disposed of his interest in the Mayflower hotel at Akron, it was revealed here.

At the same time, DeWitt announced he had purchased from a Cincinnati bank stock giving him control of the Neil House in Columbus. He plans to divide his time between this hotel and the Hollenden which he operates here.

DeWitt also operates the Lancaster, O., hotel and is a director of the Baron Steuben hotel at Corning, N. Y., which he operates for Corning interests.

Owen C. Obets, now manager of the Mayflower, will become manager of the Hollenden Nov. 1, DeWitt said.

TEA ALLOTMENT CUT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—The nation's tea drinkers will have to get along with about 35 per cent less tea next year than was used during 1941, Benjamin Wood, managing director of the tea bureau, announced yesterday. He said 65,000,000 pounds would be allocated to the United States for the year under a pact with the British.

STAR STAFF MEMBER ON STATE PROGRAM

Miss Hallie Houck To Speak to Newspaper Women.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 23—Ohio's newspaper women come here tonight to discuss problems created by the war, including new duties passed to women by men going to the services.

The fortieth annual meeting of the Ohio Newspaper Women's association opens tonight, and business sessions start tomorrow. Among discussion topics are copy desk work hitherto a man's enterprise. Jerry Fox of the Dayton Journal-Herald and Hallie Houck of The Marion Star, both now working on copy desks, will lead.

The $800 prize list for stories written during the past year will be announced Saturday, with the awards war stamps instead of cash. Mrs. Dorothy Bicker of the Wilmington News-Journal and Erma Kruse of the Cleveland Press are co-chairman of the contests.

Speakers at the Saturday night banquet will be Clark B. Firestone, associate editor of the Cincinnati Times-Star; John W. LaRue, managing editor of the Enquirer; and Carl Groat, editor of the Post.

Two from Star To Attend Meeting

Miss Houck, state membership chairman, will attend the opening board session tonight, and will speak Saturday morning. Miss Dutton, a former treasurer of the group, will go to Cincinnati Saturday noon.

Ohio State, Michigan Picked by Barker To Win Saturday

Flip of a Coin Decides Notre Dame Over Upsetting Illinois Crew; Chooses Georgia Tech To Beat Navy.

By HERB BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—Taking the usual scatter-shot at the weekly football program:

Notre Dame-Illinois: The renaissance of Illinois football under Ray Eliot has been one of the season's chief high-spots. Notre Dame, after a disappointing start reached a peak against Iowa Pre-Flight and seems ready to move on. This looks like an even proposition from any angle and the coin spins . . . Notre Dame.

Georgia Tech-Navy: Tech numbers Notre Dame among its victims. Navy has done nothing this season to warrant this vote going anywhere but to Georgia Tech.

Army-Harvard: Harvard hasn't won one yet. Army.

Michigan-Minnesota: The Wolverines have a scoring punch against top-flight competition. Minnesota has been a far cry from the machines Bernie Bierman sent to the football wars. Michigan.

Ohio State-Northwestern: In which the nation's current No. 1 ranking team meets a dangerous rival. Ohio State but the Buckeyes will need to watch Otto Graham.

Duke-Pitt: The Dukes have gotten themselves organized. Duke.

Alabama-Kentucky: On the face of the records, Alabama should be a sure thing.

Texas-Rice: Texas seems to be rolling again. Texas.

Southern California-Stanford: Southern Cal.

Villanova-Auburn: The home team, Auburn.

Wake Forest-Boston college: A nod to Boston.

North Carolina State - Holy Cross: N. C. State.

Duquesne-Manhattan: Duquesne should get back on the winning track here.

Columbia-Penn: The Lions appear over-matched. Penn.

Colgate-Penn State: Colgate.

Brown-Princeton: This vote for Brown.

Iowa-Indiana: Very tough indeed. Out of the hat, Indiana.

Wisconsin-Purdue: Purdue badgered, Wisconsin.

Great Lakes-Michigan State: Taking Great Lakes.

Texas Christian-Pensacola: Not easy. T. C. U.

Iowa State-Missouri: Should be easy for Missouri.

California-Washington: The nod goes to Washington.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Georgia over Cincinnati; Tennessee over Furman; Vanderbilt over Centre.

Nazis Resist Shackels in Canadian Camps

Disorders Break Out in Bowmanville Prison.

By The Associated Press

OTTAWA, Oct. 23 — German war prisoners at Bowmanville, Ont., attempted to resist reprisal shacklings on Oct. 10 and submitted only after serious disorders in which both prisoners and guards were injured, the Canadian government announced last night.

Some of the prisoners, a statement by Defense Minister J. L. Ralston disclosed, barricaded themselves in their barracks and refused to obey orders until guards chopped a hole in the roof and sprayed them with a fire hose.

One prisoner was wounded in the leg by a rifle bullet and two suffered light bayonet wounds, Ralston said.

"Mild resistance" to the shackling order as shown at one other camp, but no trouble was encountered at any of the remaining 15 prison camps, in Canada, Ralston added.

The shackling order was issued by the Canadian government as a reprisal measure after the Germans had announced that they had fettered 1,375 British officers and men captured in the Dieppe raid Aug. 19.

U. S. Bombers Hammer Axis Fields in Africa

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, Oct. 23 — A United States desert air task force of medium bombers and fighters again hammered enemy landing fields yesterday, scoring at least two direct hits among grounded axis planes, United States headquarters announced today.

An RAF communique said that British fighter planes shot down six axis aircraft—to which United States fighters adde a seventh—over the Egyptian battlefront yesterday, and many more were destroyed in bombing attacks on axis airdromes.

United States fighters and fighter-bombers also destroyed several enemy vehicles in attacks on transport along desert roads.

In addition, the British bulletin said, four enemy raiders were shot out of the sky over Malta.

Superintendents affected are those of elementary, secondary and preparatory school systems, and the same eligibility was given to teachers engaged in fulltime instruction in aeronautics, biology, chemistry, mathematics, physics and radio.

Nazis Threaten Force Against French Workers

By The Associated Press

VICHY, Oct. 23—The threat of force was invoked by German occupation authorities in Paris as they stepped up their efforts today to recruit skilled French workers for labor in Germany's war industries.

Issuance of the threat by the German commander for greater Paris followed the non-appearance of a group of workers directed to appear at a railway station yesterday for transportation to the reich.

Another batch of workers immediately was ordered to report today, along with the warning that those who failed to heed the instructions would "expose themselves to forceful measures."

The warning came as Pierre Laval—who told his countrymen earlier this week that they must go freely to Germany to fulfill her demands for 150,000 workers—returned to Vichy from talks with German officials in Paris.

LIQUIDATING SALES DROP WHEAT PRICES

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 23 — Liquidating sales caused wheat prices to fall almost 2 cents a bushel in the opening today as the market responded to announcement of a new program whereby government grain stocks will be released, if necessary, in sufficient volume to keep prices to level comparable with the ceiling on flour.

Thereafter, the market steadied and rallied at times. Grain men were not certain what ultimate effect this program will have on the future of spot wheat market as far as private trading is concerned but there was agreement that strict government control of prices is now a reality.

Graying Hair

FROM the number of letters I receive on the subject I gather that there are at least two schools of thought on the subject of gray hair. There are those who hate the idea of having the hair turn and will do anything to prevent it. And there are those who are rather proud of it and think their appearance is improved and are willing to let things alone.

The group that do not want gray hair have been much encouraged by the reports which have been coming out during the last few years about the discovery of a vitamin which prevents graying of hair. Unfortunately for them this report was premature. It was the report on a laboratory experiment which dealt with rats. I have seen the animals and can testify that there is no doubt that removal of the vitamin from the diet results in a wide streak of gray down their backs. But the applicability of the experiment to humans did not work out.

Those who try to translate laboratory experiments in vitamins from the laboratory to daily life of human beings do not realize the tremendous difficulties of constructing a diet with a certain vitamin out of it.

Nearly all the common foods contain one or more vitamins. In order to remove the hair-graying factor from a diet you have to leave off most of the vegetables, fruits, milk, egg, butter, nuts, bread, meats, to name just a few. What the experimenter really does is to take foods and process them so the vitamin is removed chemically. In other words, the people who write me asking what vitamin to take to prevent gray hair have been eating it daily all their lives.

The changing color of hair is a mystery of the deepest kind. One theory proposed is that hair color is due to the deposit of a chemical called melanin in the hair. The only way the body has of excreting melanin is to excrete it in the hair. When we get older we no longer need melanin in our body economy and no longer manufacture it, so the hair turns white.

Another theory recently proposed by an antomist is that he noticed that the skulls of those who had prematurely gray hair were lacking in the usual blood vessels that run to the scalp. But this also is quite theoretical.

There are a few rare cases recorded of hair restored to its natural color. Dr. James Isdell, of Dublin, in 1884 reported the case of his father who, at the age of 62, had the color of his hair completely restored. A man whose history was reported in 1912 had his hair suddenly turn gray (almost overnight) and as suddenly return to normal color. A fireman, aged 65, had his gray hair restored to normal color when he was exposed to extreme cold one night.

There is nothing inherently hard to understand in these cases if the melanin theory is correct, because the utilization of melanin might go and come in tidal waves.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"DO YOU remember, Ronald?" I asked the distraught boy, "that I told you not to judge Carol too harshly? Well, I have just learned that I was right in giving you that warning. She has been most indiscreet, and has a secret she will not reveal and which we all must respect, but we have found out that she has no guilty knowledge of Marion's disappearance, and that her questionable actions were due to the gangster's threats."

"I can't understand how she got in the power of those gangsters," he said, "and you can't realize how glad I am to hear what you've told me."

"Sometime I'll tell you all about it," I said, "but just now there is something important for you to do, and you must take my word that I was mistaken about her guilt."

Asks To See Carolyn

"May I see her?" he asked eagerly.

"That is exactly what I am asking of you," I said. "She needs you now as she never needed you before. She is with Mrs. Underwood now, and when their interview is ended Miss Whitlock shall see that you get a chance to talk with Carolyn. I will arrange that. Tomorrow morning my father wishes you to go with Carolyn, Uncle Dicky and Miss Whitlock up to Weirhampton, where you will leave Carolyn."

"Oh, I shall be so glad to go with her!" he said. "And I can hardly wait to see her."

Gives His Promise

"You must be very careful of what you say to her, Ronald," I cautioned him. "Do not refer to her secret in any way, or ask her any questions."

"I won't," he promised.

"I must go now, Ronald," I said. "My father wishes your Uncle Dicky and me to go back to the hotel with him, but first I'll tell Miss Whitlock you are to see Carolyn. Good night, dear boy, and good luck!"

With his hard young arms about me, he gave me a fervent "bear hug."

"You blessed good angel!" he said. "I only hope I can repay you some day."

Then I went on to Miss Whitlock's room and gave her the message about Ronald and Carolyn, and repeated my father's wish that she could accompany Carolyn, Dicky and Ronald to Weirhampton after everybody had a sound sleep.

I think hot milk and mild sedatives are in order for everybody," she said. "I could fairly see nerves cracking all over the place tonight, and I certainly am glad you have that Brixton girl straightened out. I would as soon have a young tiger cat on a leash for a journey as to escort her as she was before you tamed her. You did a good job."

"I hope it sticks," I said, "and I'm pretty sure it will. However—" I paused.

"However, it will be just as well if I keep my eyes open," she said, "and I'll just do that little thing."

She stopped and looked at me with a twinkle in her eye.

"You remember the old admonition, don't you?" she asked.

"'Trust in the Lord, and keep your powder dry'."
